

From the Editor-in-Chief

Dear readers,

I am happy to introduce this fourth issue of our EURAS Journal of Social Sciences (EJOSS). The third issue had been mainly focused on contemporary history. This one is more centered on current times. Some of the articles discuss hot topics like the war in Europe and migration waves. The last one brings deserved relief, recalling a gentle legend that unites Christianity and Islam. I hope you enjoy and get fresh news from all the articles here published. Special thanks go to Dr. Carlo Pallard for the valuable editing work for this issue.

EJOSS is always ready to host not only valuable articles but also book reviews, interviews and forums. Please feel free to write to us and let us have the benefit of your advice.

With best wishes and thanks to all our readers, reviewers and editorial board members.

Prof. Fabio L. Grassi, PhD
